VOLUME 69

ELBA, ALABAMA 36323, THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1967

NUMBER 52

RETIRING Mr. George Johnson, left, is shown receiving a gold wrist watch from Doney Trailer Personnel Manager Olen Bailey last Friday afternoon. The ceremonies were in recognition of his loyal service to the company during the past. Johnson retired and plans to visit several members of his family in different parts of the United States before he settles down to try out a new reef and rod given to him by the men in his department.

Skeleton Is Identified

Last Wednesday and Thursday additional parts of a human skeleton in the same area that two boys found a human skull last week. The bones were in a creek bed behind the New Haven Baptist Church.

Thursday, Sheriff H. D. Tillman and the State Toxicologist made a thorough search of the area and found almost all of the bones of a man believed to be Ivey Armstrong, of Elba, who disappeared about eight or ten months ago. This conclusion was reached using a number of clues including a billfold found with some of the bones that contained the name of Armstrong.

Local citizens searching Wednesday afternoon found several bones, including a leg bone that had fragments of flesh still attached and some skin with hair on it.

Sheriff Tillman stated that he has not received a final report from the State Toxicologist.

Griffin To Be Honored For Service To 4-H

E. C. Griffin of Elba will be honored in Auburn Tuesday night (July 25) for his 30 years of service to the 4-H youth of Alabama.

Making the presentation will be Dr. Fred R. Robertson, Auburn University vice president for extension, at a state 4-H awards program.

Griffin, principal of Curtis Junior High, was nominated for the honor by the Coffee County Extension staff.

In his years as local 4-H leader at Curtis Junior High, Griffin has made an impression on club members with his patience and enthusiasm. For a number of years he has encouraged participation in special 4-H Club projects such as beef, hog, and poultry, numerous contests and other 4-H work.

"Perhaps Mr. Griffin's chief attribute as an effective 4-H Club leader has been his ability to motivate young people to participate without reservation in 4-H Club activities and project work," said the local Extension staff in making the nomination.

When presented a 30-year certificate at a local leaders' recognition dinner in 1966, Griffin said, "It has been pleasant work, especially watching students go forth to do worthy things in life using many of the principles learned in 4-H Club work."

Griffin, throughout the years has encouraged boys to undertake projects that required hard work and has insisted they carry the projects through to completion.

Other 4-H leaders named to receive the award were Mrs. Gild Redding of Courtland, Mrs. Dan Waite Jr. of Centre, Ronald Oliver of Jasper, Prentice Sanders of Vernon, Mrs. Ruby Smith of Northport, W. R. Story of Livingston, W. M. Albrighton of Wetumpka, Edmond P. Garrett of Decatur and Ed Teague of Montgomery.

GOING HAWAIIAN Circle K Sweetheart Margaret Wilson of Elba helps Jimmy Griffin of Enterprise on with a lei, which students at Enterprise State Junior College are wearing to publicize a lea Friday night, July 21. Jim Daniels of Elba, Center, already has his.

Four flyers were killed in a mid air collision of two Army TH13 helicopters in a field of R. M. Rowell in the Curtis community. The crash happened at about 430 Tuesday afternoon.

One of the helicopters crashed and burned immediately. The other went down in the thicket and was not found for about an hour.

Post Office To Extend Parcel Post

Postmaster Robert Cooper today announced that parcel post deliveries in Elba will be expanded from five day delivery to six day delivery as of July 15, 1967.

The boundaries of the expanded service include coverage of streets now served by city carrier service plus a few larger designated firms outside the city carrier service boundaries.

This is in line with a recent directive from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien following the signing of the Post Office Department appropriation bill by President Johnson. The legislation contains an $8.5 million item for restoration of the six day a week delivery which had been cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure.

Nearly 5000 cities are affected, Postmaster Cooper said.

The Elba postal official noted that the improved service will remove an inequity for many business and residential routes.

Postal customers served by "motorized" letter carriers have been receiving six-day deliveries all along. They were not covered by the 1964 cut back inasmuch as carriers on vehicles can deliver parcels of any size. Customers living on routes served by foot carriers have received larger parcels from a five-day a week parcel post route covered by a truck. Carriers on foot only deliver small packages.

Kinston Farmers Tour State

A group of eleven farmers and businessmen of the Kinston area are on a four day tour of Alabama. Departure time was six a.m. Monday, July 17th and visits will be made to the Fred Hooper thoroughbred horse farm, Winn D. Musele Shores at Tusculum, the Helen Keller home will be visited at the last night will be spent at Smith Lake in the Bankhead National Forest, At Trussville, Edward Beard, son of Alabama Commissioner of Agriculture, Richard B. Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., plant and other points of interest in the city. The tour will show the group Army Missile Display area around the family farm, and the Marshall Space Points of Interest in the Flight Center will be visited. The second night will be spent before going back to Kinston by way of State Park.

The tour was arranged on July 19th a conduct- ed tour of the Tennessee Valley Experiment Station will be taken before going to Kinston, On the Tri-Cities, the spending at Cheaha State Park near Anniston. At Gadsden the Kinston group will be conducted on a tour of the Wilson Dam hydro plant and fertilizer development center will be visited at the last night will be spent at Smith Lake in the Bankhead National Forest, At Trussville, Ed-

The Elba City School Board is continuing to hold many meetings to discuss the need of a new gym to replace the one destroyed by fire recently and to study applications for a new football coach to replace Wendell Hart who resigned recently.

The board has not reached any decision on the coaching position as of press time.

The insurance adjusters have agreed to have the dressing rooms that were not destroyed, cleaned, do necessary temporary wiring and plumbing, repair roof, etc., to get the facilities usable by football season.

The board has not decided where to rebuild the gym.

Methodist Youth Plan Bake Sale

The MYF of the Elba Methodist Church will conduct another bake sale on the town square at two p.m. Saturday July 22nd to raise money for recreational purposes. Orders are being taken at home for special kinds of cake, pie or candy. To place your order contact Cheryl Cooper, Vicki Vaughn, or Cindy Stokes. The support will be greatly appreciated.

Helicopter Crash Kills Four

The latter chopper did not burn, and the pilots were also dead.

Fr. Rucker officials said that there was no aircraft was on a routine training mission crash but other pilots in the area stated that "no and an Army student when the crash occurred.

Killed in the crash were: W. O. Cadet Charles R. Ammons Jr., age 25, whose wife lives in West Palm Beach, Florida; W. O. Cadet, age 19, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Dietrich of Milwaukee, Oregon. Mr. Wayne Toland, whose wife lives in Enterprise and Mr. Eugene S. Bailey whose wife lives in Columbus, Ohio.

Both Toland and Bailey accepted a position with Plick and will hold the same responsible position there in the larger Chevrolet Company.

Automobile customers have learned to depend on Clark for his good judgment and in the assistance of selecting an automobile. Buyers of this area have all confidence in his dealings and will miss his assistance when trading for a new car, but joins this newspaper in extending to him congratulations and best wishes in his new position in South Carolina.

If it's something I should remember, please don't tell me on Wednesday unless you also tell me again later. And I don't think Tuesdays are much better.

For instance, last week Merle and I were invited to a coffee or a tea, I can't remember which it was, really, on Wednesday for Thursday. I did get the message to Merle before forgetting it - until several days later, I would have said it was "old age" that was my problem but that sure can't be the reason Merle forgot it. I'm ashamed of it but I don't suppose there is anything I can do about it but to say "I'm sorry."

And we had wanted a picture of the paper, and I don't want it done immediately we don't remember it again. We

TOURING AMERICA

Caravan America, a privately financed project for the betterment of relations between Americans and the peoples of other lands, is demonstrating that even a program with international aspects can be conducted effectively without the expenditure of taxpayers' funds.

This unique project, which is sponsored by the Wally Byam Foundation of Bakersfield, Calif., a non-profit organization, makes automobiles and travel trailers available to foreign visitors for cross-country tours of the United States. This summer 40 British and French families are making such trips in caravan fashion.

As explained by Mrs. Carolyn Bennett Patterson, chairman of the Foundation's board, the organization arranged for the use of the cars and trailers without cost to the foreign visitors "because of a strong held conviction that this method of travel offers the surest and best means for them to acquire clear, well-rounded and lasting impressions of America and Americans."

"Trips of this people-to-people nature without the constraints that sometimes inhibit governmental involvement, are certain to help erase misconception that may prevail about our country and its citizens," she added.

As the caravans roll through grass-roots America, let's have a hearty hello!

REVEREND BURKS PASTOR AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD

The Rev. J. C. Burks is the new Pastor of the Elba Assembly of God. Before moving to Elba, Mr. Burks served as Pastor of Glad Tidings Assembly in Pritchard. During the three years that he was Pastor there, he led the congregation in the construction of a new sanctuary that is valued at $100,000.

He has held pastorates in Hattiesburg, Clarksdale, Louisville, Tupelo, and Aberdeen, Mississippi. He served for several years as a member of the official state board of the Assemblies of God in Mississippi, and in October of 1957 he was chosen as state superintendent for the Assemblies of God in Mississippi, and served in that capacity until June, 1964.

Rev. and Mrs. Burks have one son, Charles Daniel, who is married to the former Miss Bonnie Roe of Hastings, Nebraska. They are completing graduate work at Florida State University.

Shaw Writes Letter To Editor
A letter of interest entitled "The Meaning of The Flag," written by J. H. "Jim" Shaw, of Montgomery.

The letter is very timely and follows: "Having never been a philosopher, writer or reformer or any kind, I have never before written to a newspaper. I make my living as a salesman in Montgomery and South Alabama. I am an American citizen and have been since birth. I manage to pay my taxes, bills, and get along fairly well with my neighbors and customers, so I have considered myself through these many years a good, solid citizen.

Last Saturday, June 24, I attended the 97th Annual Masonic Day celebration in Florida. The subject was "The Meaning of The Flag." As I sat there and listened to his views of our country, its past, present and future, the thought occurred to me that I have not been such a good citizen after all. Major James asked many questions, one of which I shall always remember, and that was: "Do any of you operators, who are in the army, see the American flag pass by or raised high in the sky?" He asked also if we, in our being so busy trying to make a living, ever consider the various groups from within and all over the world, who are trying to destroy us and our way of life. The more I listened, the more I became convinced that he was talking to me.

I have a good wife, a comfortable home, a good car, my guns and dogs, but I do not own an American flag. I know where to find my doctor if I don't feel well, or my dentist, grocer, sawyer and fly. I fly it on special occasions in front of my house and I believe I pass by it. I will think of it means to all of us, this earth that we inhabit, that if we would all do this, there is no country on the face of this earth that could ever take out flag down."

Shaw lives at 2935 Albee Street, Montgomery, and makes frequent visits to Florida.

There may be a disturbing parallel between Russia's experience in arming and encouraging the Arab states and the U. S. position in South Vietnam. It doesn't seem that any amount of equipment and prodding by a foreign power can turn a stable modern nation into a stable modern nation with a sense of identity and unity of action.

In the Middle East, Russia's policy toward the Arab states is reminiscent of the Kremlin pattern of stirring the boiling pot of trouble by arming, motivating and agitating the Arab states into aggressive war against Israel. The technique has worked beautifully in Viet Nam, in Cuba and the Congo. Similar technique has been used in South America. At least $2 billion worth of Russian military equipment went to just Syria, Algeria and Egypt over a ten-year period. But when the trap was finally sprung, the Arab states were left in the lurch, and the Russian military equipment was left in the lurch.

No matter where the territorial lines may now be drawn in the area, the Arab-Israeli war was a shocking setback for Russia's Middle East policy. Egypt over a ten-year period. ## Hand-reforested Acres Outdoors Nature by 27%

A Western newspaper company now planting 4.5 million trees a year—four trees for every one cut—recently checked up on an old reforestation plot and found it was at the rate of 883 trees per acre. The years of research and analysis since 1938 have shown that about 480 per acre would have been even more successful.

Furthermore, Western foresters now more wood per acre than is possible in unmanaged forests. They do this by repeated planting when seedlings die, periodic thinning,

I will be happy to mail you either one of these or both if you'll call our office. Of course, I'll be happy to have you come by and pick up these bulletins from our bulletin rack.

PEELING TOMATOES

I had a call Friday from a local homemaker who was wanting instructions on how to peel tomatoes quickly and efficiently. There are three helpful methods in peeling tomatoes. They are: (1) You can stroke the skin of a tomato with the dull edge of a knife blade until the skin is loosened. Or, second, dip the tomato in boiling water for one minute, then cool at once in cold water. (3) Another

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Is This Leadership?

HERE is a statement by Theodore Roosevelt: "People always used to say to me that I was an astonishingly good politician because I did not know what the people were going to think. This really was not an accurate way of stating the case. I did not 'divine' how the people were going to think. I simply made up my mind what they ought to think, and then did my best to get them to think it."

Dr. Kershner what they ought to think, and then did my best to get them to think it. This really was not an accurate way of stating the case. I did not 'divine' how the people were going to think. I simply made up my mind what they ought to think, and then did my best to get them to think it."

Has it not become the well-established practice of our public officials and candidates to make a poll after poll before they announce their policies? After the polls have revealed the way the tide is running, then the public officials or the candidates announce, with whatever show of bravery and firmness they can command, what they think the issue in question and what they propose to do about it. We may not realize it, but the revolution that has taken place in our political leadership means that the leaders are no longer leaders at all, but on the other hand, are following the mob.

Where is the bold leader today who determines objectively what is a right and good for our country and then goes out to sell his ideas to the electorate?

In the great days of our country that's what our statesmen did. Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Hamilton and the others argued long and earnestly over the principles upon which they believed government should be based. Having carefully thought out their positions they strove earnestly to convert men to their way of thinking. Few of them surrendered their own principles just because they thought it would lead them more votes. They earnestly advocated the courses of action in which they believed, in the hope of getting voters by changing the thinking of the electorate.

It is a sad situation, very discouraging indeed and perhaps fatal to the future wellbeing of our country, that, with few exceptions, we have lost our political leadership. Our fate is in the hands—not of strong men of character and principles—but of opportunists who have few principles of their own, and who, by and large, are among our least capable citizens. But if we have reached the point where our most gifted people are not going to lead, but are merely going to follow the masses, because that is the only way to get elected, then most assuredly we shall not be able to compete with the countries whose destinies are shaped and directed by comparatively few of their most gifted people.

Roy Grimes To School In Marine Aviation

Marine Private Roy D. Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Grimes of Cordelia Street, Elba, Alabama, has been chosen for duty within the aviation branch of the Marine Corps, and is scheduled to begin training at the Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tennessee.

His selection was based on the results of a week-long series of aptitude tests as well as interviews by senior Marine non-commissioned officers.

Shortly, he will start a two-week course in the fundamentals of aviation, which will "prep" him for advanced technical aviation schools. This course will cover such areas as the history of naval aviation, theory of flight, survival techniques, as well as parachutes and jump tactics.

FARM NEWS

By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

E. C. GRIFFIN I had a letter today from Dr. Fred R. Robertson, the Vice President for Extension and Director of Cooperative Extension Service, announcing that Mr. E. C. Griffin, principal of Curtis Junior High School, will receive a 4-H Meritorious Service Award. This coveted award is the highest which can be made for recognition of leadership and service to 4-H.
